The Milwaukee Bicycle Collective is a volunteer operated community resource for do-it-yourself bicycle maintenance and repair. During open hours our tools, spare parts and work space are available at little or no monetary cost. The Milwaukee Bicycle Collective expects those using the shop for their own projects to contribute in the maintenance and upkeep of the shop by cleaning, organizing parts, stripping bikes for parts, etc. at the discretion of the designated keyholder.

The Milwaukee Bicycle Collective reserves the right to deny access to the shop to anyone whose motives are not consistent with our mission statement, is disruptive, threatening, or creates an uncomfortable atmosphere as determined by the designated keyholder at any time.

For those under the age of 18, a parent or court appointed legal guardian must come to the shop during open hours and sign a permission slip for their youth to participate in our program.

The youth must understand that:

Use of the shop is at the participant's own risk. Our volunteers may not be professional bike mechanics. Most of our parts and bicycles are previously used and their condition has not necessarily been inspected. The Milwaukee Bicycle Collective and its staff are not in any way responsible for any injury or damage to property that may occur from modification or use of bicycles, use of the space, tools or parts at the space.
